1. The new Polish tank factory at Radomsko, south of Lodz, was completely destroyed by fire sometime in June 1949.
2. The Radomsko factory was equipped for the production of Soviet model medium tanks. Production began in the early spring of 1949. The plant installations were received from Russia and Czechoslovakia.
3. The factory was destroyed in much the same way as the installation [redacted] Sabotage action is obvious, as the fire fighting apparatus was destroyed (hoses were cut, water taps jammed, etc.).
4. The military underground in the area of Lodz has been named as responsible and many persons have been arrested, but there is no indication that the persons actually guilty are among those arrested.
